

AMERICANS CAPTURE 4,000 PRISONERS

GREAT VICTORY WEST OF SOISSONS--OUR TROOPS ADVANCE FULL SIX MILES

BULLETIN
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, July 18.—By the Associated Press.—The American troops up to noon just south of Soissons had captured 3,300 prisoners. Fifty cannon had been counted and thousands of machine guns. Northwest of Chateau Thierry the Americans captured large numbers of prisoners and equally important quantity of munitions and stores.

The captures south of Soissons in the way of stores were immense and included some airplanes which the enemy was unable to remove, so swiftly did the storming troops sweep thru. Many prisoners and many guns still remain to be counted.

BULLETIN
LONDON, July 18.—The Americans operating in the region west of Soissons, the despatch adds, have taken 4,000 prisoners, 40 guns and much other material which has not yet been estimated.

South of Vierzy on the heights north of the river Ourcq valley the Germans hastily counter-attacked and the situation at that point is still obscure.

BULLETIN
LONDON, July 18.—An American division co-operating with the French troops in their counter-attack today have captured the town of Vierzy about six miles south of Soissons and have advanced three miles beyond the town the advices said.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, July 18.—By the Associated Press.—The American troops had carried all before them by late in the afternoon and had proceeded so fast that cavalry was thrown into the action. All the American headquarters staffs tonight were well inside the territory which the Germans held this morning.

The allies have reached, roughly, the line of Belleau, Courchamps, Chouy, Villers-Helon, Chaudun and the heights dominating Soissons.

The French cavalry has crossed beyond the Soissons-Chateau Thierry road to openings made by the Franco-American forces. The greatest progress made up to latest reports was about ten kilometers or a little over six miles. After passing the third objectives set for the operations of the morning the Americans in co-operation with the French south of Soissons launched a second powerful attack a noon.

Showing the effect of splendid training the American troops went forward swiftly and fought with fury. Nothing seemed to stop them especially in the region of Soissons and to the south of that city. Light and heavy pieces were moved up as the troops advanced and soon after each barrage ended shells from the American guns were deluging the enemy's rear areas playing havoc with his forces, whether those in retreat, or reserves, endeavoring to come up. It was open warfare with all the attending excitement and thru the gaps made by heavy guns and infantry the French cavalry dashed, beating down those in their path. Terrific losses were inflicted at all points on the enemy. The tanks did all that was expected of them. The great lumbering engines rolled along in front of the infantry driving the Germans before them with streams of bullets and clearing away many obstructions that had escaped the artillery. The enemy early began to bring up strong reinforcements. Fresh troops have appeared at various points and a heavy counter-attack will probably have to be withstood.

On the line south of Soissons the American troops carried all their objectives in the second attack with the same dash as the first, even proceeding farther than had been expected. The enemy was routed and for the most part fled before the American advance abandoning even light guns and ammunition. Only here and there along the line was strong resistance offered and at these points the Germans were attacked with rifle and bayonet before which they retreated steadily. The American troops including those returning bandaged are in high spirits. The Americans have received from French officers, warm expressions of thanks.

Chicago Celebrates.
Chicago, July 18.—A shout of joy swept Chicago today as the news of the American victory in France spread.

Late in the afternoon on orders from Mayor Thompson all the fire tugs and pumping stations blew their whistles for fifteen minutes. On the board of trade all business halted. In the city also the only subject of conversation was the extent of the victory.

Federal Judge K. M. Landis said: "That counter-attack is bad enough for the Hun in itself, but the effect it will have on German morale will be incredible."

With the boys in France Washington, July 18.—The heart of the American nation was in France tonight. It marched and fought proudly with the boys who went over the top this morning and still were gallantly smashing their way ahead beside their French comrades late in the day. It was a tale of splendid victory and daring what news re-

War News Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

From the region west of Soissons to the northwest of Chateau Thierry, American and French armies have begun a strong offensive against the Germans, which possibly may have marked influence on the future of the world war. In its initial stage the movement has been regarded with great success.

All along the twenty-five miles the French and American troops have dashed in brilliant fashion across positions held by the Germans, killing, wounding or capturing thousands of the enemy and taking towns, villages and large quantities of guns and other war supplies.

Nowhere, according to last accounts from the front, has the enemy been able to stay the progress of their assaults, although counter-attacks were resorted to on some important sectors after the first stages of surprise occasioned by the unexpected attack had worn away.

To the Americans along in the region west of Soissons came 4,000 prisoners, thirty guns and much war material. Additional large numbers of captives and further greater stores of guns, ammunition and other war necessities were taken by the French. Before all the positions of the Americans and the French, their guns and machine guns cut to pieces, fleeing hordes of the enemy or hands which endeavored to withstand the onrush. The blow, probably long in its inception, is being aimed at territory vital to the Germans—territory the capture of which not alone would mean the forced retirement of the Germans from the entire salient extending southeastward across the occupied region from Soissons to Rheims, with Chateau Thierry at its southern apex, but possibly would result in the capture of thousands of Germans operating there, many of them comprising the best soldiers of the German emperor's armies.

So far has the advance progressed that already French and American troops have reached or are astride several of the important roads of supply for the German armies in the south, particularly the line running from Soissons to Chateau Thierry. It is not improbable by reason of this fact and the inability of the enemy instantly to remove them that further large quantities of supplies will be taken.

Six miles apparently was the deepest point of penetration made by the allied troops in the first day of fighting. This was at Bazancourt, south of Soissons, which they captured and passed thru eastward.

At several other points distances of four or five miles were reached from the original starting line. At Soissons, the Americans and Frenchmen came to within a mile of the city. Altogether more than twenty villages fell into the hands of the Americans and French along the battle front.

All along the front on both sides of Rheims the entente troops continue to hold the Germans wherever they have seen fit to launch attacks. East of Rheims the French have recaptured Prunay, but south of the Marne, in local fighting, the have lost some further ground. The German official communication asserts that in this region success attended the German efforts.

Southwest of Villers-Bretonneux, in the Aisne sector, the Australians have again smashed into the German line, this time on a front exceeding a mile in length, capturing guns and prisoners.

East of Heberturne, the British also improved their positions. The Germans are continuing the bombardment of various sectors held by the British in France and Flanders.

Government May Assume Control of Medical Men

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 18.—The government is about to assume control of the entire medical profession in the United States to obtain sufficient doctors for the fast-growing army and at the same time to distribute those remaining to the localities or services where they are most needed for civilian work.

This mobilization is to be accomplished either by enrolling all doctors in a service corps under pledge to accept whatever service, military or civilian is assigned them by the governing body of the corps or, if the voluntary plan is not successful by legislation providing for drafting them into government service. Medical officers of the department believe compulsory conscription will not be necessary.

Of the 143,000 doctors in the United States it is estimated between 80,000 and 95,000 are in active practice and 23,000 are about one fourth are in the army or navy. Nearly 50,000 will be required eventually for army. The active doctors remaining together with those who have retired, but who can be persuaded to resume active work must carry on the health maintenance work in this country.

It became known today that Surgeon General Gorgas of the army, Braisted of the navy and Blue of the public health service are considering a plan for commissioning all teachers in medical schools and assigning them to their present duties.

ITALIANS TO RE-ENLIST

San Francisco, July 18.—Enroute to Italy to re-enlist a party of 300 Italian soldiers who escaped from being impressed into the service of Austria by surrendering to the Russians, arrived here yesterday from the Orient under care of the United States war department.

The party is under supervision of Baron Aliotti, Italy's minister to China, who is accompanying them, being enroute home on leave. According to members of the party there are 80,000 Czechoslovaks, Lithuanians and Hungarians in Russia desirous of reaching the Italian front.

LIEUT. ROOSEVELT BELIEVED TO BE HELD PRISONER

Probably Landed Unhurt Inside Enemy Lines

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 18.—Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, reported missing after an aerial engagement over the German lines, probably landed unhurt and is now a prisoner in the hands of the Germans, according to a cable message received tonight by his father, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt said, on his arrival here tonight from Saratoga he had just received from his son-in-law, Surgeon Major Richard Derby, now in Paris this cablegram:

"Companion aviator confident Quentin landed unhurt."

"Of course," the Colonel said, "we can't be sure yet Quentin's companion was correct. If he was it means Quentin landed behind German lines and now is a prisoner."

Cablegram from Pershing. New York, July 18.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, just before leaving the city for Saratoga, N. Y., to attend the republican state convention, today, received a cablegram from General Pershing, in which the American commander expressed the hope that Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, the colonel's son, reported killed in an aerial battle in France, may have landed safely.

The cablegram read: "Regret very much that your son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, reported as missing. On July 14, with a patrol of twelve planes, he left on a mission of protecting photographic section. Seven enemy planes returned and our planes broke off combat, returning to their base. Lieutenant Roosevelt did not return. A member of the squadron reports seeing one of our planes fall out of the combat and into the clouds and the French report an American plane was seen descending safely."

"I hope he may have landed safely. Will advise you immediately on receipt of further information."

"Pershing."

Colonel Roosevelt, in reply, cable the following message: "We are deeply grateful for your thoughtful kindness and we will never forget it."

Colonel Roosevelt's attitude seemed more cheerful than upon receipt, last night, of word sent from Paris by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., stating reports of Quentin's death were "absolutely unconfirmed" there.

Col. Roosevelt Addresses Big G.O.P. Meeting

(By the Associated Press.)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 18.—A movement to bring about the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt for governor of New York by the Republicans, took definite form late tonight after the session of the state convention when Attorney General Merton C. Lewis, chief rival of Governor Whitman issued a statement announcing he would withdraw if the colonel would become a candidate.

Coincidentally a round robin was circulated by the anti-Whitman faction of the party headed by William Barnes, urging the colonel to enter the primaries. In a short time it had received several hundred signatures.

(By the Associated Press.)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 18.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt delivered a stirring patriotic address before the Republican state convention here today. He did not, however, either publicly or privately discuss state politics. Although he was given a most enthusiastic reception, no attempt was made to stamper the convention into nominating him for governor.

The fact the colonel had declined to talk on state issues became known generally about the hall before he delivered his address and plans for a prolonged demonstration with stampering potentialities, were quickly changed.

The colonel was received warmly as he strode down one of the main aisles with bands playing "The Star Spangled Banner" and the crowd on foot cheering, shouting and waving hats and handkerchiefs. There also were shouts of "We Want"

ON THE FRENCH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 18.—By the Associated Press.—When the entente allies' attack began at dawn today the Germans were surprised and offered slight resistance in the advanced lines, many immediately throwing up their arms and shouting "Kamerad."

The barrage fire preceded the waves of infantry but one of the heaviest storms of this year drowned the noise of the shells. Most of the Germans had taken shelter in their dugouts from the deluge and the entente allied troops were among them with grenades and bayonets before they had time to turn around.

Many prisoners are coming in. The entente allied troops are displaying the utmost fervor in the attack, their desire being to strike a strong blow in return for the recent German assault.

It is the first occasion this year that the entente allies have counter-attacked on such a big front. Their opera-

Turkey is showing too much ambition for territory to please the kaiser. The only ambition the Hun approves of in others is a desire to die for Germany.

Fifty thousand city men are said to have worked in the fields this year in caring for small grain. Jacksonville business men did their share.

Army surgeons are performing miraculous operations in the hospitals. Time will give to the profession full recognition of the work accomplished.

The crop of active Hun haters is increasing. Haiti, whose council of state has declared war on Germany, is the twenty-second nation to join the war against the kaiser. Her other twenty-one are the following:

United States, France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Japan, Russia, Serbia, Montenegro, China, Cuba, Portugal, Rumania, Greece, Brazil, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Liberia, Panama, Siam, San Marino, Russia and "Peace" treaties.

That the state banking bill is valid, and that the proposition should be placed upon the ballot at the November election is the contention of the state in the injunction of Louis Spies of Kanawha county, against Secretary of State Emmetson. Spies, by his attorneys, contends that the bill is invalid, because some of the amendments approved by the house and senate were not contained in the measure which was signed by the governor.

Germany seems to have had the same estimate of Americans as that held by Spain in the Spanish-American war. The Spaniards depicted the Americans as swine, interested only in devouring gold. The Germans promptly adopted the term "schwein," but their opinions are changing.

Sixty-four million dollars have been melted into bullion by the United States treasury, most of which has been exported to India. Fifty-eight million dollars have been withdrawn from circulation and destroyed as the silver on which they were secured was melted down. The treasury still holds 428,000,000 silver dollars against which $230,000,000 in silver certificates are outstanding. New federal reserve bank notes of the denominations of $1 and $2 are being issued to replace the silver certificates withdrawn.

PROFITABLE WARS.
Lloyd-George told the Canadian editors that Germany had waged three wars, and each time thru those wars she added to her strength and territory.

Each of these "profitable" wars encouraged Germany to take up the next war. But Germany had been checked in any of the three wars the present conflict would not have been thrust by her on the world. And Lloyd-George pointed out that if in this war Germany wins a square yard of territory or adds a cubit to her stature, it will be enough to encourage Germany to plan the next war.

Here is Lloyd-George's conclusion: "The old of brute force must this time forever be broken and burnt in its own furnace."

German propaganda money was evidently used in gaining control of many large papers in cities. The country press has stood almost solidly behind the administration and for a vigorous prosecution of the war.

WILSON AND THE SENATORSHIP.
President Wilson has written a letter to Senator Lewis saying he hopes the senator will run for re-election. That is all right, of course. The senator has done his best to serve his party, at the same time he was serving his country, and the party would be ungrateful in the extreme if it did not re-nominate him.

But there is a hint that the President intends to go farther and make an effort to persuade the people of Illinois to re-elect Lewis to the senate. It is the hope of many admirers of Mr. Wilson that he will not go that far.

In the first place this State is normally Republican and has been so for more than fifty years. Senator Lewis owes his office to a political accident—a quarrel between two factions of the majority party. It will be remembered that he was the only candidate at the Democratic preferential primary held just before the federal law providing for popular election of senators went into effect. He explained when making the race at the primary, that he did it because he thought the party ought to have a senatorial nominee. No one thought there was a ghost of a chance that the legislature, controlled by the Republicans for twenty years, would elect a Democrat and elect a Democratic senator.

But the unexpected happened, and Governor Dunne and the Democratic majority in the legislature accepted Lewis as the choice of the people. Conditions are changed now. The state has a Republican administration.

But this administration has stood solidly behind the President. Governor Lowden has rendered the country the greatest assistance within his power. Thru the state Council of Defense he has organized the state into an efficient unit of the great American war machine. No state has excelled Illinois in patriotic endeavor.

The Republicans of Illinois, therefore, may be relied upon to nominate a candidate qualified in every way to render efficient and signal service in the senate. The President under these circumstances, should not interfere.

To try to force a Democratic senator upon a state that is normally overwhelmingly Republican certainly would not be in keeping with the Administration's plea for the "adjournment of politics."—Springfield News-Record.

Helping to Win.
Breathes there a man with soul so dead he never to himself hath said, "I'll dig up money, every chance, if that will help our boys in France." If coin will help to squish the Hun, I have no use for hoarded mon. The hat I've worn since '93 will do another year for me; the shoes I bought three years ago will serve to bear me to and fro; the pants I drew in father's will are fit for ample service still. I root for Uncle Sam at bat, so come along and pass the hat. It's hard to understand the state who's scheming early, scheming late, to see how little he can give; he ought to be ashamed to live. Committees call at his abode, and kindly ask him to unload. He backs and fills and fums and laws, and shoves some piffle thru his jaws: "I dug up fifty cents last May. I can't spare anything today." And he can face him, self, that guy, who ought to hunt a hole and die. But in the long sad years to come he'll find this world is out of plumb; he failed to whoop for liberty, and while he lives on earth he'll be as lone some as the yellow dog that hangs around the city morgue. Oh, we must give until it hurts, until we've soaked our Sunday shirts, and when we've given all we own, still strive to give another bone.

CITY COUNCIL MET IN ADJOURNED SESSION

Matters of Minor Importance Discussed—School Board Not Ready With Report.

The city council met in an adjourned session Thursday morning. The session was primarily for the purpose of discussing the question of vacating certain streets in the vicinity of the high school with members of the board of education.

Mayor Rodgers announced that the school board was not ready to report, but would be ready by Monday.

S. Fernandez and son had surrendered the contract awarded for the laying of sidewalks on certain streets. Commissioner Widemeyer moved that the contract be awarded to J. W. Baptist, and the motion prevailed.

The council discussed informally the matter of distributing patent medicine samples and pamphlets thruout the city. It was the consensus of opinion that an ordinance should be passed to prohibit such distribution.

The question of completing the paving of the street railway tracks in West State street was also discussed. The matter of securing paving material also was brought up. The mayor read a letter in which the government authorized the use of needed material for paving work already under way.

The following letter was read from the Springfield Paving Brick Company, relative to the manufacture of special block for paving the railway track as called for in the specification:

"Henry Rodgers, Mayor,
"Jacksonville, Ill.:
"Dear Sir:
"Referring to order of John E. Bretz, paving contractor, for special rail blocks for the street railway construction in your city, we regret to say that the prospect of our making them up this season is very remote.

"On account of limitations, promulgated by the various government authorities, it is not likely that it will be necessary to start up the plant to take care of any other business. As we have explained, it is not practicable to run on the rail blocks alone, as we cannot set full kilns of them.

"It is our opinion that our business is going to be extra good after the war, and we think we will have the plant going full tilt shortly after that time. That time is the best promise we can make as to the delivery of the rail blocks necessary for your work.

"Yours very truly,

FOOD CONSERVATION COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Important Meeting of District Conservation Committee Chairman Held at the Peacock Inn.

With Mrs. Parker Doan, chairman of the Twentieth District Food Conservation Committee, presiding, the chairman of the District Committee met yesterday for an interesting and valuable session at the Peacock Inn. After the session the business of the meeting was to "preach the gospel behind the Lewis guns in the trenches."

Y. M. C. A. Wants 1,000 Women Overseas—One thousand women are wanted by the Y. M. C. A. to go overseas to work among the expeditionary forces. They must be willing to wash dishes and scrub, as well as stand long hours scolding chocolate and cigarettes and biscuits to the soldiers.

Without Any Teeth, He Bit Himself—When the Orons was torpedoed one of the 57 Y. M. C. A. secretaries on board stopped in the middle of washing his "tooth" teeth. Later he stepped into a life boat, manned an oar and, after rowing a few minutes, felt his hand hurting. Only then did he discover that his teeth were biting into his flesh.

Thirteen in many combinations hoisted the torpedoed steamship Orons from which 57 Y. M. C. A. secretaries were rescued. Passengers went aboard on Friday; the boat sailed April 13; there were 13 vessels in the convoy; 13 Methodist preachers were on board. On the thirteenth day out a black cat presented the passengers with three kittens. Otherwise there was nothing superstitious about the rescue.

Gas Mask Defies Cheating Tobacco—Modern warfare rather than prejudice is responsible for the decline of the American habit of chewing tobacco, say Y. M. C. A. secretaries who sell tobacco in the expatriates in France. It is thick, a devotee of the pipe, seriously embarrassed when called upon to use his gas mask. As one southern soldier put it: "With tobacco in my mouth I can't use my gas mask."

Musical Conductors in France—Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra, has sailed for France under Y. M. C. A. auspices to organize an orchestra of 50 of the best French musicians. They will travel among the American soldiers at the front.

A Singing Army Will Win—On the assumption that a "singing army is a winning army" the Y. M. C. A. is recruiting men who can go overseas to teach men to sing. This is an opportunity for song and choir leaders. Mass singing is now practiced in all the American camps as well as in the American Expeditionary Force in France.

Following the Army—Back of the French lines four hundred "projection posts" have been established where motion pictures are shown to the soldiers. They are moved as the division or regiment moves. The Y. M. C. A. also follows the army.

Working Above the Clouds—In Italy there is a Y. M. C. A. recreation hut among the Dolomites 8000 feet above sea level.

WIFE OF CANADIAN SOLDIER VISITING HERE.

Mrs. Maurice Smith and little son Maurice Shrewsbury Smith of Salt Lake City are visiting with Mrs. O. B. Peterson at the Peacock Inn. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Bess Shrewsbury of this city. Her husband is now a sergeant with the Canadian Tank Battalion, somewhere in France, having enlisted at Salt Lake City when the war broke out. Little Maurice Smith Jr. is the recipient of a handsome purse, the gift of the Tank Battalion of this city. Mrs. Smith is a member. Captain Leppon of the battalion called the members together and asked Sergeant Smith to step forward at which time he was presented the purse for the baby and three rousing cheers were given for the "new recruit."

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

Lawrence Shelton and James O'Brien, both of Murrayville left last night for Kansas City to enter the Rahe army school. The local board has received instructions not to accept any more applicants for the Rahe school, as all men needed have been inducted into the service.

H. R. Penny and family of New York City were here yesterday enroute to Kansas City, Mo. They reported the roads in fine shape between this city and Springfield. They had been just one week on the road and expected to reach Kansas City this evening.

The government has supplied the office of the local exemption typewriters. In the recent emergency typewriters were loaned the board by J. Capps & Sons and Mrs. Andrew Russell. It is needless to say that their action was greatly appreciated.

IMPROVEMENT WORK AT THE STATE HOSPITAL

Old Material Being Used In Construction of Patients' Are Doing the Work Without Assistance Given on Farms.

Many improvements are in progress at the Jacksonville State Hospital in the way of securing more room and accommodations for the patients, enlarging and adding new buildings. The ward known as D-1 is now being remodeled and made into a new I.D. ward for the female patients. This ward is at the present time located in the basement of the building but will be raised and put on the level with the ground so to make it suitable for such work. The improving and changing of this ward will cost approximately $2,000.

To Enlarge Isolation Hospital.
The isolation hospital will be enlarged and converted into a very modern tuberculosis hospital capable of taking care of twenty-four patients at one time. This will add much to the present tuberculosis quarters.

To House Fire Department.
Another improvement to be made is the building of a structure to house a fire department. The building will be constructed from the old bricks of the old chimneys torn down to make room for the new kitchen. All of these improvements will be done by the patient help and will be paid for out of the repair and improvement fund allotted to the hospital, no special appropriation being made for this work.

Extensive Farm Work.
Few people realize the extent to which the patients of the hospital benefited during the summer around Jacksonville during the present harvest time. Many of the farmers contracted with Supt. Hill for the help of the men to plow corn, shock wheat and oats and to help in the putting up of hay. Between 1,500 and 1,800 acres of wheat and oats were shocked several hundred acres of hay put up, and of which the state received its pay for the labor in both money and shares of the crops. Ninety acres of hay were put up of which the hospital received half, this alone amounting in value to almost $2,000. Between $1,100 and $1,200 was realized from the shocking of the small grains.

Supt. Hill stated that much more work could have been done had they had the necessary detail men to send out with the patients. Already many farmers have contracted to have their corn shocked by the patients, and it is expected that many more will ask for help.

Baskery and Weaving.
A little later in the year a new phase of work will be started with the patients in the form of baskery and weaving. This will not be the weaving of carpets and rough materials as this is already being done, but the patients will use the finer grade of materials such as linen, crash and toweling.

Miss Hopple who is now taking training at the Henry B. Fabill School for Occupation of the Illinois Society of Mental Hygiene at the Hull House in Chicago, will return to the hospital here and have charge of such work. The state expects to buy looms and the raw material and do weaving of such material as can be used in any of the state institutions thruout the State. Along with the weaving will come baskery which will be applied in the same way.

Miss Hopple is receiving her instruction under Mrs. Sagle who has been working with the Sargen General of the United States Army in the work of education for the crippled soldier, turning to this country. Some ideas that are being worked out for the wounded and crippled soldiers are being applied to the education for the insane.

WITH THE COLORS
Emmett Miller writes to Mrs. O. E. Tandy, member of Caritas lodge, as follows:

Camp Shelby, Miss., July 14, '18.
Dear Mrs. Tandy and Sisters and Brothers of No. 625:

I trust and sincerely hope that you will pardon me for the delay in acknowledging the receipt of the beautiful gift that you so kindly sent to me, and I wish at this time to express to you and the members of old 625 from the bottom of my heart my most sincere appreciation and gratitude for the same and the keen and close friendship shown by the givers.

I will endeavor at this time to tell you a little something I know about the camp here. This camp here is about ten miles square, and accommodates about 30,000 or 40,000 men, and is a regular city in itself, and at night when the lights are all turned on it is a great and wonderful sight to behold. We have six army Y. M. C. A.'s in this camp and I wish to say right now, I do not know on earth we would do without them, for they sure are a good thing and make a home for the boys while at leisure. We also have some wonderful church services in the Y., and I have heard some very forcible speakers, indeed. The duty of the Ambulance Corps is to render first aid to the soldiers, and then transport them in the ambulances to the field and base hospitals. We are associated directly with renowned doctors, and have a great deal of studying to do. I am getting along very nicely, also during the day the heat is very penetrating but at night it is very cool and we can sleep wonderfully well.

Well, this is Sunday evening, and I am going over to church soon, so will bring this to a close, thanking you again, one and all, for the beautiful gift, I beg to remain, yours in F. L. and T., M. Emmett Miller.

U. S. TO AID IRELAND IN RECRUITING WORK

American Troops May Visit Ireland to Impress Upon People There the Part America Is Taking in the War—Agitation Against Conscription Relaxed.

Dublin, July 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The agitation against conscription has relaxed, in the face of the proclamation calling for voluntary recruits, and no attempt to apply the draft is anticipated before October, and then only in the event of a conspicuous failure to obtain the necessary men by enlistment.

The suppression of illegal drilling proceeds daily and is greatly helped by the warning of the government that if it continues they will declare the counties affected "special military areas." The Irish people have been quick to realize that the extension of such areas would greatly facilitate the application of conscription, and advice is everywhere being given to the young men to avoid assembling in military formation. A curious feature of the prosecutions is the number of instances which reveal the fact that the accused have brothers or other relatives, sometimes two or three, now serving in the army in France.

None of the Sinn Feiners arrested at Whitehouse, imprisoned under the Defence of the Realm Act, has so far taken advantage of the provision which enables them to appeal against their imprisonment. To some of those who protested against their continued incarceration without trial, it was pointed out that a trial in some leading instances might mean a conviction, a conviction on such a charge carried penalty of death, and that the accused might better be satisfied if their friends, instead of interfering, left them to the slighter punishment of imprisonment.

The immediate purpose of the government is to make a success of its recruiting campaign. The work is done by civilians drawn from all political parties, the most notable of whom is Sir Horace Plunkett. Local committees will be formed on this principle in every district. Pro-ally propaganda, hitherto totally neglected, will be undertaken and an attempt made by suitable literature to explain to the Irish people the real issues of the war. The Associated Press is informed by a high official here that it is the intention to bring American troops to Ireland. The visit of the Canadians last year proved a stimulus to recruiting and it is felt that the presence of American troops would bring vividly home to the Irish mind the part which America is taking in the war, and remove the two prevalent impressions that this is an English war in which Ireland has no interest.

SALVATION ARMY MAN MAY BE MADE CHAPLAIN.
Paris, July 18.—John T. Atkins, formerly Salvation Army major in Chicago, now serving with a famous battalion in the United States army as a Salvation Army worker, has been mentioned in battalion and regimental orders, has been "over the top" several times with the battalion, has been acclaimed the most popular man in the battalion and recommended for a commission as chaplain.

"Major" Atkins, who is known to the officers and men of the battalion as the "little major," to distinguish him from the real major of the organization, Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is said to carry the good luck of the unit with him. The boys believe that when he is present with them in an engagement their casualties are light. On one occasion, when a raid was to be undertaken, the little major's unit suffered only four casualties, while the next organization suffered severely.

When pay day was a long time coming, recently, he gave each man in the battalion an order for seven francs on the canteen. Each took advantage of the "jabbone," as the army boys call a loan, and when pay day came not one failed to visit to the little major with the return payment.

CATERPILLARS INVADE PARTS OF ENGLAND.

Buxton, England, July 18.—The northern part of Derbyshire, as well as certain parts of Yorkshire, are being invaded by an army of "antler moth" caterpillars. Battalions of these pests are on the march and are described as "like a moving carpet" taking rocks and walls in their march or crawl, just as the Romans did, without attempting to go around.

Trenches are being dug around fields with growing crops and various other methods are being adopted under direction of the authorities to try and exterminate the hordes.

WORLD'S SMALLEST PUBLIC LIBRARY.

London, June 29.—What is perhaps the world's smallest public library is claimed by a village not far from London. The village itself is very small. It is merely a newspaper file that hangs upon a wall in the village street, but the community is grateful for it.

This was attested to a stranger by an accident, white haired villager who, pointing to the "library" with his stick, said: "Wonderful useful that be these days when folks can't get the papers as they did, along of all this shortage and rations and such."

FEWER TAXICABS IN LONDON.

PROPOSE PLAN OF SELF GOVERNMENT FOR INDIA

Plan of Limited Home Rule Prepared for Submission to British Parliament—Before the Goal is Reached People of India Must Have Period of Training.

London, July.—(British Wireless Service)—Eventually to set up in India a responsible self government is the avowed purpose of the plan of limited home rule for that country which has been prepared for submission to the British parliament by Edwin S. Montagu, Secretary for India, and Baron Chelmsford, Viceroy and Governor General of India.

Before this goal of self government can be attained, however, the authors of the new plan say the Indian people should have a period of training. They avow that the proposed scheme of government is a temporary expedient intended to provide a method of training in government and say the ultimate attainment of the desired goal depends upon the Indian people themselves. "It would not be fair to give it to them until they fulfill the necessary conditions," say the Secretary for India and the Viceroy.

Not Definitely Adopted.
The report has been made public by the government for purposes of discussion and criticism. It has not been definitely adopted in all its details by the War Cabinet.

Leading up to a description of their new plan, the official announcement says that "declarations of both our own and American statesmen concerning the liberalization of the aims of the Allies have given new force and vitality to the growing demand among the progressive section of the (Indian) people for self-government."

The Viceroy and Secretary of India propose that the new government in India shall be composed of the following:

Provisional legislatures to be composed of directly elected representatives.

A Vice-regal Legislature for all India to be composed of two chambers—the Legislative Assembly of India and the Council of State.

The Indian Privy Council, members of which are to be appointed by the King Emperor.

A Council of Princes.

According to the official announcement of the provisions of the scheme an increasing degree of responsibility is to be given to the provinces. They are to have the largest measure of independence compatible with the authority of the Vice-regal legislature.

Certain subjects are to be reserved for action by the Executive Council of these provinces, excluding Burma. These Executive Councils will consist of the governor and two members, one of them to be an Indian. "Devolution," says the official announcement, "is to take the form of giving responsibility in certain subjects, to be known as reserved subjects, to the provincial Legislative Council which will have a substantial number of elected members to be chosen on as broad a franchise as possible." The subjects over which this provincial electoral body will exercise control are defined as "those offering most opportunity for local knowledge and social services wherein the Indians have shown themselves to be keenly interested; those wherein mistakes would not be irremediable and those which stand in need of development."

"Contributions to the government of India" adds the announcement "are to be the first charge of provincial revenues. The remaining provincial revenues are to be administered by the provincial governments."

The Vice-regal Legislature of all India will be composed of two chambers—the Legislative Assembly of India and the Council of State. The Assembly is to have a membership of 100. More than half, thirty six, of the members of the present Legislative Council are nominated by the Governor-General but under the new plan this official majority would disappear and two-thirds of the 100 members of the Assembly would be elective. The remaining one-third would be nominated by the Governor-General.

Final Legislative Authority.
The second chamber, or Council of State, is intended to "develop something of the experience and dignity of a body of elder statesmen. It is to be the final legislative authority in matters which the government regards as essential. Besides the Governor-General it will consist of fifty members, of whom twenty nine are to be nominated and twenty-one elected."

To obtain legislation necessary for the conduct of the government, the Governor will have power to certify that enactment of a certain measure is essential to the peace or tranquility of province.

The proposed Council of Princes is to consider questions affecting the native states and those of concern either to the Empire as a whole or to British India and the native states in common.

Ten years after the proposed new government is organized a commission is to be appointed to review the whole political situation and judge what further power can be transferred to the native governments. Similar commissions are to follow at intervals of not less than twelve years. A select committee on India is to be formed in each session of the British House of Commons.

Throughout the report it is pointed out that the granting of further responsibility to the native government depends upon an active and intelligent voting by the natives.

WARNS JAPANESE TO BEWARE OF RUMORS

Governors of Japanese Empire Warned to be on Guard Against Secret Enemy Emissaries—Imaginary Dialogue Shows State of Public Opinion in Holland.

Tokio, July.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Governors of the Japanese Empire were warned by Baron Shimpur Goto, the Japanese Foreign Minister, in an address to them recently to beware of mischievous rumors which were, he said, calculated to estrange relations between Japan and the United States and Japan and Cuba. The Foreign Minister advised the governors to be on their guard against secret enemy emissaries coming thru Siberia to stir up trouble in Japan.

Alluding to the pending negotiations for an accord with China, Baron Goto said that the more intelligent persons of China and Japan are trying to reach an effective understanding. In the future, more Chinese would come to Japan and he bespoke for them a cordial and courteous reception as a means of cementing the friendly relations between the two countries.

The opinion that public expressions in Japan are liable to be lacking in a proper consideration for the feelings of the peoples of Japan's allies was expressed by Baron Goto. He said that occasional comments published without proper care or investigation which appear to the allies as unfriendly criticism were most regrettable at a time when Japan is making common cause with the Entente nations and is actuated by no other motive than the expectation of complete victory.

The war, the minister explained, necessitated certain trade restrictions and Japan's commerce had been affected thereby. But it should be remembered that these restrictions were the result of sheer necessity and that Japan must be prepared to make sacrifices in order to carry on the war to a successful termination. He deplored the fact that the sudden expansion of trade had led to a tendency to export goods of inferior quality. Fortunately, by the combined efforts of the government and of those directly interested in maintaining a genuine standard the production of inferior goods was decreasing, tho it had not entirely ceased.

AN IMAGINARY DIALOGUE.
Amsterdam, July.—An imaginary dialogue between a Dutchman and a German published in the Telegraaf, shows the state of public opinion over the German refusal to permit Dutch ships to sail for America to bring wheat for Holland.

"Why are you always pestering me? Why don't you hold your tongue?" the German demanded.

"But why can't I have wheat for my bread?" asked the Dutchman.

"What do I care about that? Don't I send you coal?"

"Yes, but..."

"None of your impudence," retorts the German. "And what do you send me in exchange?"

"Vegetables, cheese and milk. Also meat, and a little of everything besides. And I give you credit for it, too," replies the Hollander.

"What are you complaining about then? Be thankful that I still allow you to trade with me. I might have taken everything I wanted of you without giving you a scrap in return."

"Have you the right to do so?"

"Right? I make my own right, is the German response.

"But my wheat?"

"Why should you have wheat? Have we any wheat?"

"At least allow us to give tonnage to America in exchange for wheat."

"Certainly not. If you give tonnage you strengthen the enemy, and he who does that is my enemy also."

"And what do you do to your enemy?"

"I club him to death and take all he possesses."

"Then if I give up tonnage you club me to death, and if I don't, I starve to death?"

"Don't object," says the German. "Do I ask you to keep alive? It is we who must live; you don't matter."

WAR CHANGES LONDON DINNER HOUR.

London, June 6.—The war has changed London's dinner hour, but the alteration came about so gradually that few people really realize it. Just before hostilities began in 1914 the fashionable dinner hour in London was 8:45. Now it is 7:30, or thereabouts. The hour for afternoon tea, however, continues to be from four to five o'clock, as it was in pre war days.

EMOTIONAL CRISIS TO BE OF LONG DURATION.

London, July.—In the opinions of British government officials Germany's emotional crisis due to air raids on cities along the Rhine will be of long duration with progressive attrition of German morale.

The Rhine, they point out, is a broad river as well as a long one and it is an unmistakable guide to airmen flying high by day or night. Many munition towns are distributed along that stream, and also within easy reach of Allied airmen are the iron towns dotting the river Saar.

Germany cannot put up an effective air barrage along the whole length of the Rhine and Saar, altho she can by robbing her battle line keep planes on the Rhine to attack the raiders. However, when the British recently raid Saarbrücken, Germany lost track of one when she went up fighting machines for defense work and Saarbrücken was bombed just the same.

tion directly effects the position of the German western flank and probably will cause the German crown prince to hurry some of his reserves to the scene of the fighting from the Marne and the Champagne where yesterday and today everything was quiet.

The Germans have widely announced that their armies were engaged in an offensive war movement. This operation gives them the other side of such warfare in which the allies have taken the initiative.

Under Fire from French Positions

LONDON, July 18.—So far as is known at present the junction line between Soissons and Oulchy-le-Chateau and also the junction line between Soissons and Fismes are under direct observation and fire from the new French positions on the Crise ravine. These two lines are the only lines by which the Germans in this salient between Soissons and Rheims can be supplied. It is possible, however, that the Germans may have succeeded in connecting up their lines in another way.

The French counter-attack is regarded here as one of the most brilliant pieces of work in the war and it is believed that the results will prove extremely valuable as the French have obtained most important strategic positions. In London the view is held that the advance has put an end to the German offensive for the present and that Rheims can be considered comparatively safe. The French have reached all their first objectives.

South of the Marne much local fighting is reported. The French have lost some ground but are still within effective range of the German bridges across the river, though it is possible they may have lost direct observation. Further to the east the allies have regained ground in a good many sectors, especially in the sector west of Maissiges.

Situation Extremely Promising

LONDON, July 18.—The great counter attack in which the French and American troops are participating between the Aisne and the Marne has succeeded extremely well, according to the latest advices received here tonight, and the situation, for many reasons, is considered extremely promising.

Owing to the fact that there was no preparation, the action was a complete surprise for the Boche, and the enemy artillery reaction was very weak. On the other hand, the French counter battery work was exceedingly effective. Enemy aviators entered into the action and attempted to impede the advance, using their machine guns at a low altitude. Notwithstanding this, the counter attack was noteworthy for the reason that the French offensive accomplished a great deal more than was achieved by the German drive on both sides of Rheims. The length of the front over which an advance was made was probably the same and the French and Americans working together advanced in six hours, virtually double the distance covered by the Germans in three days.

Attack Absolute Surprise

On the front in France, July 18.—Evening.—By the Associated Press.—The French-American attack along the broad front north of the Marne was an absolute surprise. Many German officers were captured while asleep, and numbers of the men were taken while harvesting rye. The greatest stupefaction was created among all the enemy troops holding the lines at the low altitude of the attack. Some of the prisoners declare they had been told that it was impossible for the allies to carry out any operation in the way of an offensive for some time.

Many tanks participated in the attack, having been able to take up their positions during the terrific storm. The American troops co-operating with the French in the assault and brilliant work.

Around Courchamps, northwest of Chateau Thierry, the German resistance was more obstinate than on any other part of the Paris line. In this region the allies captured 18 cannon, numerous machine guns and large numbers of prisoners, who have not yet been counted.

The allied troops showed wonderful spirits and advanced singing. A battalion of infantry crossed the river Savieres, breast high in water.

TAKING DEPOSITIONS

New York, July 18.—The National Baseball Commission thru its Secretary John R. R. is taking depositions of major league players who come under the work of right order and will forward them to Provost Marshall General Crowder in Washington. It was announced here tonight.

This for placing before General Crowder concerning professional baseball as an essential industry.

works. "Comparatively few enemy machines were encountered. We shot down three and shot one down out of control. We lost one machine. We also shot down six hostile balloons in flames. "Severe thunder storms prevented our bombs from carrying out night bombing."

BERLIN, July 18.—via London.—German headquarters this evening chronicles the great counter-offensive carried out today by the French and American troops north of the Marne as follows: "Between the Aisne and the Marne the French attacked with strong forces and tanks and captured some ground. Our reserves, which were held in readiness took part in the battle."

Rome, July 18.—The Italian official communication issued today follows:

"On the whole of the front there has been moderate fighting by both artilleries and the usual activity by our reconnoitering detachments. "Tuesday night and Wednesday morning the military works in the fortress of Pola were bombed. Three hostile aircraft were downed."

BERLIN, July 18.—via London.—The official communication from German headquarters today dealing with the operations of yesterday says:

"Yesterday the army of General von Boehm was fighting heavily thruout the day. Reinforced by newly brought up divisions, the enemy after several hours of artillery preparation again launched a great united counter-attack against the whole of our front south of the Marne."

"By evening the battle was decided in our favor. The enemy's attack broke down with the heaviest losses. Our counter-attack threw the enemy out of small places southeast of Mareuil into which he had temporarily penetrated. On the north bank of the river the enemy also endeavored vainly to contest our successes. "In storming the ridge south of Pourcy we took its defenders and regimental commander prisoner and captured several guns. "Twenty three enemy airplanes were shot down yesterday."

PARIS, July 18.—The work of the French air forces in the operations is indicated in an official statement issued tonight as follows:

"Our aerial forces have continued to play a brilliant part in the battle. On July 16 and 17, our bombing squadrons attacked without cessation bridges over the Marne obstructing passage of enemy troops. These troops attacked by machine guns and bombs, suffered serious losses and were obliged several times to disperse. Our bombing machines likewise carried out expeditions against cantonments, railway stations, munition depot and concentration places in the enemy rear areas. Twenty one tons of explosives were dropped during the day and fourteen during the night doing much damage. A violent explosion occurred in the station at Maisson Bleue. Fires broke out in the station at Concy, Les Estapes and Bazoches. "Our airplanes, with their usual dash have engaged in numerous combats over the enemy lines. Twenty nine German machines were brought down or put out of action and five captive balloons were set afire. Yesterday despite the violent wind and torrential rains, twelve German airplanes were brought down and four captive balloons were destroyed."

Bert Basset an I. W. W. secretary, declared he had never heard of any rule casting out members of the I. W. W. because they joined the army. C. F. ment of the attack as it was unfolded, bulletin by bulletin to devote much time to calculations as to form the basis for military predictions.

Secretary Baker had difficulty in holding himself to cool, un-hurried expression, as he dictated to the newspapermen late in the day a statement summarizing General Pershing's brief reports. Secretary Baker, General March and war department officials generally spent much time over the messages.

Mr. Baker's statements paid instant homage to the dash and gallantry of the American forces and his elation as well as that of the officers who surround him was clearly written between the lines. Statement summarized General Pershing's reports as received up to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

"Headquarters American Expeditionary Forces, July 17.

"Section A: In the Marne sector our troops have entirely regained possession of the south bank of the river. Northwest of Chateau Thierry, the enemy yesterday repeated his attempts of the preceding day to penetrate our lines near Vaux. His attack was completely broken up by our infantry and artillery fire before reaching our lines.

"Yesterday, in the region of Thiaucourt, a hostile airplane was shot down by one of our aviators. "The most promising consideration of the counter-attack, officers believe aside from renewed proof of the fighting qualities of the new American armies is the fact that General Foch has now sufficient force to unloose a major counter stroke, for the blow today is nothing less than that, however, limited its fixed object for today may have been. The supreme commander has now shown clearly that a definite turning point has been reached where his resources in men and munitions are great enough for him to assume at least an aggressive defense.

Whether the present stroke will enlarge into an allied offensive cannot be known until the events of the next few days are known. If the present Franco-American thrust should realize all the possibilities seen in it by observers abroad and force the Germans out of the whole Aisne-Marne salient it seems highly probable to officials here that General Foch might feel warranted in expanding that success thru offensive operations on other fronts.

A narrower construction of today's events fixes the stopping of the German drive west of Rheims as the purpose of the Allied attack. In that case it is already certain that what was accomplished today will go far toward ending any menace the German assault may still have.

NURSES ARE NEEDED BY THE THOUSAND

United States Seeks to Have 25,000 Enroll in Student Nurse Reserve.

The acute need for more nurses has caused the government to make a special appeal for 25,000 women to enroll in the United States Student Nurse reserve and hold themselves in readiness to train for services as nurses.

The war is creating an unprecedented demand for trained nurses. Only those who have taken the full training course are eligible for service with our forces overseas. These nurses are being drawn largely from our hospitals at home. Their places must be filled by student nurses enrolled for the full training course of from two to three years. Every young woman who enrolls in the United States Student Nurse Reserve is releasing a nurse for service at the front and swelling the home army which we must rely on to act as our second line of hospital defense. Upon the health of the American people will depend the spirit of their fighting forces.

Age—The call is for women between the ages of nineteen and thirty-five.

Qualifications—Intelligent, responsible women of good education and sound health are wanted—the pick of the country. A college education is a valuable asset, and many hospitals will give credit for it. Credit will also be given for a special scientific equipment or for preliminary training in nursing, such as that given in special courses now being conducted by various colleges and schools. Some schools, on the other hand, do not even require a full high school education.

Enrollment—Women will be given an opportunity to enroll in the United States Student Nurse Reserve in any one of three ways: (1) As engaging to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to accept assignments to nurses' training schools. These women will be sent to the schools as fast as vacancies occur. Those of superior qualifications will be given preference, and it is, of course, possible that not everyone who enrolls will be accepted.

(2) As desiring to become candidates for the Army Nursing School recently established by the authority of the War Department, with branch schools in selected military hospitals.

(3) As engaging to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to accept assignments to either a civilian training school or the Army Nursing School. Those who so enroll will be called where the first need arises. The Government hopes that a majority of those who enroll will thus put down their names for both.

The Nurses' Training Schools. There are 1,579 nurses' training schools in this country. Their need is as great and imperative as that of the Army School of Nursing. Those who enroll for these schools will be assigned as vacancies occur.

The enrollment card will indicate two classes of registrants—Preferred and Deferred. The Preferred class will be those who are ready to accept assignment to whatever hospital the Government directs them, although they may state what training school they prefer to be sent to. Those who register in the Preferred class will be assigned first, and all possible consideration will be given to their preference as stated. The Deferred class is composed of those who limit their pledge of service—that is, who will not engage to go except to certain hospitals. This class is intended largely for those who, for family reasons, cannot accept training at a distance from their homes. Those who register in the Deferred class will be assigned only after the Preferred class is exhausted.

The Government relies on the patriotism of those who enroll to fill out Preferred cards if they possibly can, thus volunteering to go where they are most needed.

Nobody will be assigned to any schools whose conditions of training are not approved by the State Board of Nurse Examiners.

Terms of training—The term of training varies from two to three years, according to the requirements of the particular schools to which the student nurses may be sent. No course takes less than two years nor more than three.

What the training course prepares for—At present every woman who completes satisfactorily her training in any accredited school is eligible for service as an Army nurse at the front and stands a chance of being assigned to duty abroad. At the same time she will be qualified to earn her living in one of the noblest professions open to women. It should be remembered, furthermore, that her usefulness will begin not when she graduates from the training school but as soon as she enters it. Practical nursing work is a part of the work of every training school, and the student nurse is not only learning to serve but serving her country from the outset.

Finances—The student nurse gets her board, lodging, and tuition free at practically every training school, and in most cases receives a small remuneration to cover the cost of books and uniforms. After graduation she has an earning capacity of from $100 to $300 a month. Private-duty nurses now receive an average of from $100 to $120 a month, together with board while on duty; institution nurses from $50 to $250 a month together with board, lodging and laundry; and public health nurses from $100 to $250 a month without maintenance.

There is no danger of the earning capacity of nurses being lowered after the war ends on account of the great number who will then be qualified for the profession; the country will need all the nurses that can be trained, not only during the war but after it, especially for reconstruction work. Even if the war ends with three years every student nurse will be able to complete her training and will be needed.

An honorable Service—Ever since the days of Florence Nightingale the nursing profession has been one of especial honor. It was never so honorable as it is today. The Army needs every nurse it can get to "keep up with the draft." The United States Student Nurse Reserve is the equivalent for women of the great National Army training camps for soldiers. The government will rely upon the student nurse to fight disease at home, to care for those injured and disabled in our hazardous war industries, and to make themselves ready to serve when the time comes as fully trained nurses, either abroad or at home. Let us show that we know how to answer the Government's call to the women of the country.

NEW YORK G. O. P. CONFERENCE

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 17.—Republican leaders from all parts of New York are gathering here today for the informal State assembly of the party, which will meet tomorrow. The large number of early arrivals indicates the interest and importance attached to the conference. It is recognized that while ostensibly the meeting is held for the purpose of preparing a State platform, that as a matter of fact the real purpose is to bring the several party factions into agreement on a candidate for governor.

Supporters of Governor Whitman declare the governor will Opponents of the Governor, on the other hand, appear confident that the convention will select another candidate. Upon whom the Whitman opposition may center their support is a matter of speculation. So far as surface indications go there appears to be little enthusiasm for either Merton E. Lewis of Rochester or former Congressman William S. Bennett of New York City, both of whom have announced an intention to contest for the nomination in the primaries.

The convention will be featured with addresses by Republican leaders of national prominence who will voice the patriotism of the party with reference to the war and whose speeches will form the foundation for the platform upon which the Republican campaign will be waged in New York this fall. Former President William H. Taft and former Senator Elihu Root have accepted invitations to address the gathering. It is also expected that Colonel Roosevelt will be among the speakers.

U. S. FLYERS TRAINED AT ENGLISH CAMPS

Finishing Touches Given at Numerous Aviation Camps in England—First Flight is Trying Ordeal for Pupils.

An American Aerodrome in England, July.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—This is one of the numerous aviation camps in England where Americans are receiving their finishing touches as flyers. When they leave here for the battle front in France, they know all that can be taught about flying. Only the school of experience can supply the post graduate course that makes Geyners and Luftburys.

The aerodrome is set in one of those beautiful spots that one calls to mind from classic pictures of England landscapes. It is early in July and the great level field that stretches away in front of the hangars is like a rich green carpet. Beyond there is a woodland, and in the distance is a range of low hills whose smooth contour recalls to western Americans the foothills of California.

It is a peaceful place and very quiet except for the droning of airplanes. At least a dozen are in the air and others are preparing for flight. Into one of these latter a young Kentuckian just climbed. For the first time he is going up alone.

For weeks the British instructor has been with him constantly and he has passed successfully the major tests. He can fly straight the instructor sitting beside him has made sure, and he can work the controls without fear or "nerves". He knows how to stall, to glide and to climb, and he has learned a good deal too about the important art of landing.

On one memorable occasion the instructor had shouted to him above the roaring of the engine, "Shall we loop?" and they did. But hitherto, of course, the instructor had been the real pilot, explaining maneuvers, encouraging the young man to secure an accurate touch, and to become, as he must if he is to be successful, so perfect a matter of the machine that he can make it fly of itself.

The fact that it is his first flight is known at the aerodrome and many eyes are watching to see him "take off."

With a tremendous spluttering the engine starts. The instructor, standing on the step of the fuselage, holds to his cap against the hurricane raised by the propellers, and shouts his final directions. He points to the instruments, shows what the engine revolutions should be, feels the controls, and bids the new "solist" good cheer.

What the fledgling flyer's feelings are only those who have flown alone now. He is dropping the pilot and embarking on the great adventure.

On a first flight alone the pupil's performance is carefully watched for any faults. Usually he is given a definite piece of maneuvering to carry out. A pupil is never sent into the air merely to fly about for a fixed time. Afterwards he will have more "dual" with his instructor and much of the old teachings will be repeated and emphasized. At this point perhaps the real understanding between instructor and pupil becomes manifest. Understanding and sympathy are important factors in aerial instruction.

PORTO RICANS TO WORK A VIRGINIA COAL MINE

San Juan, Porto Rico, July.—Five thousand Porto Rican workers are wanted by a Virginia Coal mining company to bring its mines up to 100 per cent output. At present these mines are under producing about 75 per cent. The solution of this problem lies in labor and the Virginia corporation believes that Porto Rico can furnish that. It is willing to pay transportation and provides homes for Porto Rico laborers if a way can be found for bringing them North. This has been made much more perplexing by the sinking of the Carolina and the danger of other submarine attacks.

Still, Special Agent Roberts, who is in charge of the transportation of island workers to the mainland, is hopeful. He believes that the federal government is going to make every effort to take North workers who register for employment. He points out that in the United States there is a shortage of all kinds of labor while here now that the sugar crop is over a large number of men are idle and without immediate prospects of finding work. If they are left here they are condemned to a long period of usefulness and poverty, while their presence in the North would be a real asset for the industries of the country.

A WAR PARTY

To Elect Men Who Will Prepare For Peace by Pushing the War.

Will H. Hayes, of Indiana, in a recent interview regarding the present aims of the Republican party, spoke plainly and to the point. In answer to questions Mr. Hayes said:

"The Republican program is very simple," said Mr. Hayes. "It can all be placed under three general heads: (1) Win the war and win it now. (2) Let us have peace, but only with victory. (3) Let us begin instantly a broad, careful preparation for after the war. We are as little prepared for peace today as we were for war eighteen months ago. Let us be forewarned. Preparation—preparation, first for war to the hilt, and then, just as adequately, for a victorious peace."

"How is this radically different from the program of the Democrats?" was asked.

"It tops them," was the answer. "At the present time the minority party is in the position of standing behind the majority party urging it to go faster, strongly, more certainly. The Republicans are going to travel the second mile! We shall out-Herod Herod. Whenever the Democrats call 'victory,' we shout it twice. If they ever lag or doubt or hesitate, we shall be there, instantly ready, to 'carry on.' Every action of the Republican Party, in every possible connection, in every district, every State, every nook and cranny of the nation, is to be determined solely by how we can add most to the sum total of war good."

Party Born During Civil War.

"There must always be in American affairs at least two great parties," he continued. "Our governmental organism cannot function healthily without the sturdy contest that inevitably arises when two strong political forces contend for mastery. This must and shall continue during the war, and it shall only be limited where it appears to be of any injury to the progress of the war. And Republican success will aid the progress of the war, for we demand an even more vigorous prosecution of it than do the Democrats. The Republican Party is a war party, has always been a war party. It remains today even more a war party than does the Democratic. The Republican Party was born in the Civil War, which it prosecuted to a glorious conclusion. It stood sponsor for and triumphed again in the Spanish War. It stands today as sturdy American and as staunchly militant in the world war. It looks upon all this nation's previous history as merely preparation for the glorious destiny now about to be fulfilled. It will take no secondary seat in participating in that destiny. Republican support of the country's cause in this and the last Congress exceeds that of the Democratic by actual computation."

"Then what is the exact line of cleavage between the Democrats and the Republicans?"

"It is the historic line of cleavage," answered the Chairman. "The war does not stop it, but only accentuates it. I need not dwell on it; every one knows what it is. The Republican Party is against the great Federalization of industries and activities, except as necessary war measures. We declare that the American laboring man will need a protective tariff after this war more than before. We want a dominant merchant marine, but privately owned, and only subsidized to the extent that is necessary to meet the difference in cost of construction and maintenance as compared with other countries."

"But the crying need of the hour, as we see it, always excepting the paramount necessity of winning the war and making no peace without complete victory, is immediate preparation for peace. Every country except America is preparing for peace. We are slipping along now under a Democratic Administration without any apparent thought of the morrow. Just as we did before we entered the war. We are committing just as great a national blunder now in not preparing for peace as we did then in not preparing for war. If the Republican party is not the party of the future, then there is no use for the party. There is not going to be any 'zone of twilight' for the Republican Party between this time and the inevitable time when we regain power. We will work in the open, for the future, and I hope with at least twice the present top speed of the Democratic Party. If we have made mistakes in the past, experience has taught us what they are and we will 'come back' with the lessons learned and all our old power of initiative and force vastly heightened."

Must not be Political Issue.

"The Administration has made its own answer. It has gone more heavily into politics than ever. Witness Wisconsin and now Michigan. It is striving, wherever possible, to make the issue of loyalty one between Democrats and Republicans. To this we heartily and determinedly dissent. We say there should be no politics in the war and that equally so the war should not be allowed to be a political issue. We are even more vigilant than the Administration in stamping out any evidence of disloyalty."

"An episode of last month will indicate to you just where I stand. Colonel George Harvey wrote me suggesting that I meet with him and with the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee to see if we could not agree to eliminating a certain number of political districts from the next year's contest, on the ground that at least half the Congressional districts would be mutually conceded, before the election, to one side or the other. It was his opinion that if we accepted 3,000 majority in each of the last two elections, except in special instances as marking a district 'safe' for the dominant party in that district, and that if the majority party would then agree to withdraw their for the coming election, the number of contests would be reduced from 435 to less than 100. I immediately replied that I would do anything to keep politics out of this war and that I would keep any appointment he could make with the Democratic Chairman. However, up to date, none has been made."

"I will go even further than that. I am willing at any time to meet for the purpose of conferring on the question of the loyalty of all Congressional candidates. All candidates should be, and we pledge that all our candidates shall be, supremely pro-American. On that subject I am not only willing but more than anxious that we should stand absolutely as one. I don't want any allegations from either one side or the other concerning 'disloyalty' in the coming campaign. Any such allegation would give a totally false impression of conditions in this country to the enemy, and the man or committee or party who starts anything like that will be guilty of the worst kind of disloyalty."

Vigorous Prosecution of War.

"Our candidates will be of such a character that a Republican victory this Fall will mean primarily and essentially one thing only—an ever increasing vigorous prosecution of the war. Every Republican vote cast is another nail in the Kaiser's coffin; every Republican Congressman elected is another stone piled in his tomb. I want the November election to be a bombardment that will shake Berlin better than any grand battery of seventy-five mile guns."

"Our coming political activity is not to be lessened. On the contrary, what we want in this country is not 'less politics,' but more attention to politics. I have no use for the man who is too busy or too good to take a part in the active politics of his community. I have no use for those smug individuals who sit with folded hands and expect Governmental affairs to be right when they do nothing in the bearing of burdens in any effort to make them so."

"We are fighting to make certain the right of individuals to govern themselves. Let us exercise that right here, where we have it. Our institutions must triumph at the polls as well as on the battle front. This is just as essential as it is on the French battlefields. One goes with the other. Every man must demonstrate the fact that it is better to be an American than it is to be a German by expressing the privilege of his citizenship, that priceless heritage for which we are now drenching the plains of Europe with our blood. That privilege is not suspended by the war; it is only intensified by the war."

"Fordson Tractors" are here, and C. N. Priest, the Ford Man, will give a demonstration on the Bufile farm just west of Nichols Park on Friday and Saturday, July the 19th and 20th. Bring the family and stay all day.

PATRIOTS

REPUBLICANS HEAR ADDRESS BY ELIHU ROOT

Former Senator Addresses Informal Republican State Convention at Saratoga—Declares Proper Conduct of War Requires Loyal Republicans in Congress.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 18.—"Whatever danger from disloyal votes does not threaten, we should strive vigorously to elect republicans to the Senate and the House of Representatives," declared Former U. S. Senator Elihu Root, in an address he delivered here tonight before the informal Republican State Convention.

"The proper conduct of the war requires loyal republicans in congress," continued Mr. Root. "No government can afford to go on without the tests and criticisms of policy and performance which can hardly be furnished during the continuance of this war except by putting republicans in Congress. With the tremendous power which the exigencies of war have vested in the executive branch of the government, it is very difficult for legislative members of the party in power to express, or indeed to form, independent judgment, and to subject measures proposed for legislation to the process of correction and improvement by discussion and amendment—yet without this, terrible mistakes are certain to be made. A study of recent legislation will show that the independent support of the republicans in the Senate and in the House given to every forward step of the President in the conduct of the war, not because a party leader told them to give it, but because their loyalty and judgment constrained them to give it, has been of the highest value. No nation can dispense with the kind of independent and fearless service which was rendered by Augustus Gardner of Massachusetts when he led the fight for preparedness and by Julius Kahn of California when he led the House of Representatives in the passage of the selective draft act. It is a moderate statement that a large part of the democrats who exercise power in Washington are not familiar with the vast and complicated industry and commerce and finance which underlie the taxing power of the United States. Nor are they very sympathetic with the men who are engaged in that industry and commerce and finance. There are some men among them who seem to feel that an element of punishment may properly be included in taxation. That is dangerous in the highest degree. Taxation should be absolutely controlled by the purpose to raise the necessary revenue and preserve the sources of revenue by fair distribution of the burden, and unless there is independence and courage to insist upon this principle we are liable to be hampered in the war by a sharper decline in our power to raise money."

"There is another reason for sending republicans to Washington arising from the effect upon American political and social institutions which must result from the measures necessary to carry on the war."

"We have been building up a great building by a mass of statutes an executive authority unprecedented in scope and absolutism. We have done it with alacrity because it was necessary for the conduct of the war. We shall continue it so long as the war lasts. But when the war ends, all this system of executive government will have to be unscrambled and we shall have to get back to a government of limited powers and individual freedom. We shall not be back where we were. That never can be done. And it ought not to be done, because we are learning valuable lessons and we must utilize them in the rearrangement which follows the war. But that rearrange and free Never in American history have brains and character been needed more in the Congress of the United States than they will be at the time, probably within the life of the next Congress."

gress when Germany breaks and peace comes.

"Beyond that day of victory, a new world will rise from the ashes of sacrifice. The new relations in a community of nations subject to the rule of law and morals, and the extension and development of the principle of self-governed freedom, will demand the highest capacity for political organization and public service. In that day the party that has been faithful to the right, without fee, the party that arises to the greatness these spacious times with vision and unselfish devotion, will have its reward in the confidence and trust of the American people."

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food.

Given the right kind of medicine any tired-out, inactive, lagging fellow can quickly be made into a real, live, energetic and even ambitious man.

So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who feel worn out and who find it hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Bio-feren at any druggist.

This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despaired of ever amounting to anything in life.

People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks.

No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you; no matter how run down, nervous or tired out you are, get an original package of Bio-feren at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bed-time—seven a day for seven days—then one after each meal till all are gone.

Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded, keen-minded men possess, your purchase money will be gladly returned.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycophosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Glycerin; Capsicum; Kola.

RED CROSS BARS POLITICS.
All Officials of the Organization Requested to Resign Before Becoming Candidates for Any Political Office.

The question of politics has arisen in connection with the work. It was inevitable that it should arise in this year of general elections, since it was inevitable that, in almost every community, the country over, somebody active in war work would become a candidate for office.

The American Red Cross, first of national organizations to meet this question, meets it regularly and says, in effect, to all of its workers:

"Keep out of politics or get out of Red Cross work."

By order of the American Red Cross War Council, Acting General Manager Scott has written to all division managers, saying:

"The Red Cross is and must be maintained a strictly non-partisan, non-political organization. The reasons for this are so obvious to everyone that they need no elaboration."

"No matter how sincerely any Red Cross official or worker may strive to keep his Red Cross work from any possible political ambitions which he may entertain, he may and probably will be quite unable to prevent his friends from using his connection with the Red Cross in order to gain favor with the voters."

"While such action cannot be controlled, all candidates for office who are at heart sincere well-wishers for the Red Cross, should realize that they should do all in their power to prevent the public from gaining an impression that political preference can or should directly or indirectly be affected by Red Cross work either at home or abroad."

"Accordingly, the Red Cross War Council instructs me to direct that you request all officials of the Red Cross, either in chapters or in division headquarters, who are in any position of executive authority and who, at the same time contemplate candidacy for public office, either to resign in their official capacity from the Red Cross or to refrain from such candidacy."

Several State Councils of Defense have taken similar action. The State

CORN TAKES DOWN.

WARD PLUNGE
CHICAGO, July 18.—Rapid downward plunges in corn today, largely on sweeping success of the entente offensive caused prices to close heavy 3 1/4 to 4 1/4 cent lower with August $1.55 to $1.56 and Sept. $1.56 to $1.56. Oats lost
1/2 to 3/4 cent to 1/2 cent lower. In provisions the outcome varied from a shade decline to 5c advance.

Selling by all classes developed when the allies' success had been placed beyond doubt. An upturn resulted before most dealers appeared to grasp the new situation then there was a quick reversal of sentiment, and the day's break in some cases was 5 1/2c a bushel.
Bearish crop reports and liberal receipts were additional weakening factors. Seaboard buying and dry weather reports from Canada kept oats relatively steady.

Provisions were upheld mainly by belief that government orders soon would be placed.

FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

A recent letter to members of the Morgan County Farmers' Club, sent by County Agent G. E. Kendall, had the following paragraphs among others:

GROW MORE WHEAT OR RYE—We must plant enough wheat, rye and wheat substitutes during the war to feed ourselves and our allies, not only in a bumper crop year, but in a poor crop year.

Several large soil areas in Illinois are much better adapted to rye than to wheat. Many farms have some soil of this kind. These lands would be growing rye.

SAVE LABOR—Plan a rotation with fall wheat or rye. The following general proportions are suggested: Southern Illinois: From one-fourth to one-third of the land should be in wheat or rye. Central Illinois: From one-fifth to one-fourth of the improved land should be in wheat or rye.

These proportions may have to be varied some for local areas of individual farms. This plan would considerably increase our present acreage of bread grains. Fall wheat and rye in the rotation help to distribute man and horse labor more evenly throughout the growing season. Plan your rotation so as to save man and horse labor.

GET YOUR SEED NOW—Seed wheat and rye of the varieties best adapted to your section should be secured now. Improved varieties adapted to your conditions may increase yields from two to ten bushels per acre. Find out what is the best variety for your section and get your seeds as soon as it is threshed. Early plowing and firm seed bed are important for wheat and rye.

In this connection the following general facts, taken from a news letter recently issued by Roy Bishop, county adviser in Livingston county, are of interest:

SEEDING FALL WHEAT—Now is the time to begin arranging for wheat seeding. Livingston county will perhaps harvest the largest average yield of wheat it has had for years. All this wheat is needed, and there are several fields of wheat in the county where clover has been plowed down and phosphate applied, that will make over fifty bushels per acre. We are now making a demonstration on one or two of these farms when wheat is being threshed. Phosphate and clover will make wheat raising profitable.

This big crop of wheat should encourage us to do more. The nation needs the wheat and the wheat will make profit. Let every member seed more wheat.

The Livingston county brown silt soil loams, timber soils, black silt and sandy loams, which are well drained, are adapted to wheat raising.

Wheat does best when it follows clover and when phosphate has been applied. Plowing should be done early—the earlier the better. Alsike clover stubble land comes in fine for wheat seeding. Red clover delays plowing if seed crop is harvested in case no seed is produced, plow down clover early for wheat.

Remember, there is no crop which will give better results, where matted still, spread on top of plowed down four or five inches deep, or better still, spread on top of plowed land. Turkey red wheat is the best producing wheat for this county.

NOTE.
1. Plan for your wheat crop now.
2. Plow wheat land early.
3. Spread manure on wheat land of poor quality.

4. Wheat on phosphate land will make a much larger yield and be of better quality.

5. Wheat on phosphate and clover land is, on the average, a big paying crop, and yields ten to twenty-five bushels more per acre than wheat on land which has been cropped to corn and oats alone.

6. Seed Turkey red wheat, or a local variety known to be a good producer.

7. Engage your seed wheat now—otherwise you may not be able to get it.

8. Prepare wheat land thoroughly. Disc in August or September or during the first two weeks in October. Better early than late.

9. Sow one and one-half to two bushels of seed per acre. Better two bushels than less than one and one-half.

10. Seed with a drill.

11. Roll the soil before seeding, after it has been finely pulverized.

12. Do not prepare a deep mulch for wheat. Two and one-half inches of pulverized soil is sufficient.

REMEMBER THE BOYS OVER THERE when you are deciding on the acreage of wheat.

LAMB FEEDING—There is a great amount of rape, clover and other feed now produced in the county which is fit for feeding lambs. If you can handle a few lambs in your oat stubble and corn fields you should do so. Much clover has been cut. Some of this will fatten from eight to ten lambs per acre.

If you have fences and feed, try some lambs.

Very truly yours,
Roy C. Bishop, County Agent.

DO-WITHOUT CLUB IS GETTING BIG RESPONSE

Latest Enterprise of State Council
Woman's Organizations—Every Town Should Have One.

At the headquarters of the Do-Without Club, the State Council of Defense headquarters, the desks are covered with letters from men and women whose interest has been captured by the thought of giving up some small indulgence and letting the dimes, nickels and quarters go toward themselves into War Savings stamps, or cigarettes for soldiers, or food and drink for some French orphan, or a new phonograph record or two for the boys in camp.

"I am quite a smoker. I'll do without cigars for one day per week and give the money to the tobacco fund," writes a patriotic traveling man from "somewhere on the road," while another letter forswears tobacco for an entire month.

"I have been doing without a great many things in order to help Uncle Sam," runs another letter. "I think now I will do without silk stockings for the duration of the war."

"Candy for the month of July," writes a young American. "Perhaps the most sweeping pledge of all is that of the earnest woman, whose letter reads: 'Starting today I am willing to do without meats, candy, ice cream and picture shows for a whole year.'"

The Do-Without Club is the newest protégé of the committee on women organizations of the State Council of Defense. Those who want to join without waiting for local action should send ten cents for membership fee to 120 West Adams street, and receive the red-white-and-blue membership button and suggestions to members.

NOTICE TO MOTHERS
Dr. Anne Sharpe, chairman of Child Welfare Work of Morgan county, invites all mothers of the Fourth and Second wards to bring their children under six years to her home, 921 West State street, Saturday and Monday afternoons, for the purpose of having them weighed and measured. This is a government request. Enlist and register your children now. It may be compulsory next year.

The rural districts have gone "over the top" in this work, but Jacksonville mothers have not registered 50 per cent of their children. Dr. Sharpe is anxious that Morgan county should register a greater number of perfect children per capita than any other county in Illinois.

Miss Kathleen Sappington of Winchester is visiting with Mrs. Mary Young, 1200 South Main street.

Home Missionary Society Meets.
The Woman's Home Missionary society of Grace church met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Williamson on West College avenue, Thursday evening, with a large number of members in attendance.

It proved a most interesting meeting. There were three unusual features, there being present the District Superintendent, Rev. E. L. Pletcher, the district president, Mrs. J. W. Hairgrove of Virden, from each of whom the society enjoyed interesting greetings. The society had the most esteemed privilege of having one of the membership national organizers, Miss Olivia Dunlap. Her attendance was interesting as she has just been visiting at the camps of our soldiers. Altho traveling during the last few nights and making four changes of train Wednesday, she reached here about 12 o'clock noon Thursday and gave a splendid talk, much enjoyed by all. The first part of the meeting opened with singing ably led by Miss Ida Lee. Following the business session the program, which was in charge of Mrs. Charles Hopper, was well received.

W. E. CRANE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE
St. Louis papers yesterday mentioned the fact that W. E. Crane has filed at Clayton, Ill., in St. Louis county, a suit for divorce from his wife. Mrs. Crane has been for some time in California and since last fall Mr. Crane has been engaged in government work for the war trade board in Washington, D. C. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crane have been aware of an existing estrangement and so the filing of divorce proceedings, which will be heard in September, caused no special surprise. It is not expected that there will be any extended trial and the proceedings will be somewhat formal in character.

Mrs. Fred Hopper, Misses Lena and Clarabel Hopper and Hugh Green returned Thursday evening from Lake Matanzas where they have been camping with a party of friends for a number of days. E. E. Beasly was a business visitor in Chandlerville Thursday.

CENTENNIAL COMMISSION PLANS BIG MEETING
Dr. Edward Bowe has returned from Chicago where he went to attend a meeting of the centennial commission. President James of the University of Illinois has recently been elected a member of the commission, taking the place of Dr. Judson of Chicago University, who has gone on an overseas mission. The Chicago session was particularly for the purpose of furthering discussion of the two big centennial dates, August 26 and Oct. 6. On the first date, which will be during the week of the state fair when a series of centennial observances have been planned, Col. Theodore Roosevelt will be the speaker.

On the latter date President Woodrow Wilson has promised to be present and speak unless there are national affairs which make it very necessary for him to remain in Washington. The centennial commission feel that they are almost certain that the public will not be disappointed in announcing the intended visit of the president. On that date the corner stone of the centennial building will be laid and the ceremonies throughout the week will be of a most imposing character and entirely worthy of the history of this state, so inseparably linked with that of the United States.

COL. ROOSEVELT ADDRESSES A BIG G. O. P. MEETING

"Teddy" but there was nothing in the demonstration that could be remotely construed as a serious attempt at a stampede.

During his address the colonel was frequently interrupted by applause and cheering. These reached their height when he declared the sinking of the Lusitania was the firing on "Sumpter to this war" and that if the United States had declared war at that time "we would have had a couple of million across seas months ago. Russia would never have broken, and the war would have been over now."

Immediately after his speech Colonel Roosevelt left the hall amid another enthusiastic ovation. He went out as he had come in on the arms of the campaign managers of the rival candidates for governor. He went immediately to his hotel and shortly afterward started for Albany by motor. During his entire stay in the city except for his appearance on the platform, he was in rough talk with members of his family.

This fact and the additional circumstances of his having refused to discuss state issues with a committee headed by William L. Ward, considerably lessened the Roosevelt for Governor talk among the delegates, altho it was by no means discontinued. The colonel adhered closely to his prepared speech, except on one or two occasions, notably when he appealed to his hearers to perfect their ideal citizenship. At no time did he refer to the death in France of his son Quentin, but his audience felt he had this keenly in mind when he said:

"In this great world crisis, perhaps the greatest in the history of the world during the Christian era, where the events of the next few years will profoundly influence good or evil for our children, and our children's children for generations, it is where we are making sacrifices and making ready for sacrifice on a scale never before known, surely when we are rendering such fealty to the idealism on the part of the young men sent abroad to die, surely we have a right to ask and to expect a loyal idealism in life from the men and the women who stay at home."

"Our younger men have gone to the other side—very many of them to give up in their joyous prime—all the glory and all the beauty of life for the prize of death in battle for a lofty ideal. Now while they are defending you, can't we men and women at home make up our minds to try to insist in public and private on a loftier idealism here at home? I am asking for an idealism which shall find expression beside the hearthstone and in the family and in the councils of the state and nation."

"And I ask you to see that when those who have gone abroad to endure every species of hardship to risk their lives to give their lives—when those of them who live come home, that they shall come home to a nation which we by our actions made a nation for and to have had for them."

Besides Colonel Roosevelt's address, the convention listened to a patriotic keynote speech by former Representative J. Slott Fassett, elected him temporary chairman, named platform and credentials committees and received and referred to the platform committee several resolutions.

One of these demanded that United States Senator Wade should support the federal suffrage amendment or resign. Another called for a referendum on Sunday baseball.

The platform committee elected Miss Mary Garrett Hay of New York as chairman, she being a compromise candidate acceptable to the rival factions. The platform committee continued at work tonight.

At tonight's session, Elihu Root, Will H. Hays, national republican chairman, and Miss Helen Varick Boswell, executive secretary of the organization of republican women of the state were the speakers.

Mr. Root and Mr. Hays counseled against disloyalty. Miss Boswell, whose address marked the first appearance of a woman in a convention of one of the big parties on a political equality with the men, declared that "politics is patriotism on the job."

Both addresses were strongly patriotic.

Lays' Address.
Saratoga, N. Y., July 19.—The Republican Party today supports a "every possible means to win the war now," demands a peace with victory and never peace by compromise and stands for sane preparation now for solution of after-the-war problems. Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Convention, said today in addressing the delegates to New York State's unofficial Republican State Convention, meeting here.

Just returned from a coast to coast tour of the country, and optimistic of Republican success this fall, Mr. Hays gave a win-the-war talk, and in witness of what his party was doing in Washington he said that "for all members of both Houses of Congress present and voting on all war measures, the Republicans have furnished 74 per cent of the total war support."

Reunited Party.
Mr. Hays' address was in part as follows: "Republicans of New York? I bring you the glad tidings from Maine to California, from Wisconsin to New Mexico. The Republican party in this nation is reunited. God bless the boys who have come back home and God bless the boys who stayed at the hearthstone and kept the home fires burning. We have a work to do for the good of the country."

it takes us all to do it, and with characteristic Republican courage, intelligence and vision we will proceed to the accomplishment.

"In this, the greatest of all crises, our party, with the control of the government in other hands, becomes the war party of the nation, insisting on the right of a full participation, giving to the last of our blood and our treasure, standing immovably against an inconclusive peace."

"We regret that Allied officers have asked in vain for certain greatest American leaders and we insist that every possible efficient instrument in men and material which is available shall be used to aid in winning the war, and that inefficiency shall be replaced by efficiency wherever found, and all of these things which we demand of the party in power, we irrevocably pledge for ourselves."

"The fact that the party in power refused to prepare for war in 1914 and 1915 has not lessened the support by Republicans in congress who so strongly urged it. The most unfair and unpatriotic efforts in many quarters for political purposes to prevent the full participation by Republicans in war activities have had no effect whatever on the Republican party's patriotic and loyal membership in its giving to the last of its blood and treasure. And nothing can deter us. We will continue to give, to strive, to fight and to die until victorious American arms have forever ended the intolerable arrogance of a scientifically trained brutality and we have a conclusive peace with victory."

What Party Stands For.
The Republican party stands today for three things: "First, for every possible means to win the war now."

"Second, for a peace with victory and never peace by a compromise bargaining of principles which would violate American rights, interests and honor, and make of our sacrifice a sacrifice to be made again by our grandchildren."

"Third, for a sane preparation now for a solution of the problems immediately in their complexity and magnitude which will come after the war. We are as unprepared for peace as we were for war. Every country except America is preparing for peace."

"We will establish policies, which once again will bind up the wounds of war, which will renew our prosperity, which will administer the affairs of this government on a sound business basis and which will enlarge our strength at home and abroad. With all our power we will strive to prevent the further spread of the socialistic tendencies of the times toward federal ownership of all the creation and distribution of wealth as a remedy for all the real and fancied ills of society and set this nation's feet once more firmly on the path of progress and along ways which liberty and order must ever guard and preserve."

Candidates Supremely American.
"Our candidates will be, and the party pledges that they shall be, men who are supremely American, believing in one flag and one people for this country, men who will give all for the most vigorous prosecution of the war, and who will strive for peace with victory and never a traffic in principles. They will be men who, while we make certain forever the right of free government in the world, will not forget that we have a Republic to preserve in this country; that we are a representative government, not a Bolshevik syndicate; that while there is absolutely nothing in this country which we will not take and use for necessary war purposes, such taking shall be for war purposes only; and that when the war is over, we will restore private properties taken for war purposes to their owners; and that a successful political party's objective is a record performance of a sacred contractual obligation."

"A Republican congress means a war congress which will be a warrant of its own performance and a guarantee of complete fulfillment by every department of the government. Every Republican vote cast in another hall in the Kaiser's coffin, every Republican congressman elected is another stone piled on his tomb."

BRINGS SUIT IN TRESPASS.

John Anderson, owner of the Grand opera house building by his attorneys, Bellatti, Bellatti and Moriarty filed suit in trespass with the circuit clerk yesterday against Fletcher Hopper and Harry Hofmann. He asks damages in the sum of $10,000. Only the praecipe has been filed. It is presumed, however, that the suit is the outcome of Messrs. Hopper and Hofmann surrendering the Grand opera house and hotel to Mr. Anderson a few days ago.

POLITICS AND RED "X" HAVE NO RELATIONS

Executive Officers Who are Political Candidates are Asked to Resign—Letter from State Manager.

The American Red Cross in its activities has no relation to politics. In fact the management is making a special effort to impress that fact upon the public and upon all men connected with the organization who are candidates for political office. Howard W. Fenton, manager of the central division American Red Cross, in a letter just received by M. F. Dunlap, chairman of the Morgan county chapter, states that Red Cross officials who are in positions of executive authority and who contemplate candidacies for political office should resign from the Red Cross.

The matter is stated very plainly and the candidates are asked either to surrender their candidacy plans or to resign from the Red Cross organization. It is sincerely hoped that no candidate for office will make any effort to politically capitalize his Red Cross connections or activities.

Letter from State Manager.
The letter to Mr. Dunlap follows:
M. F. Dunlap,
Chairman Morgan County Chapter, Jacksonville, Ill.
My dear Mr. Dunlap:

The first general election since the entrance of the United States in the war, is to take place before long. The Red Cross must be maintained a strictly non-partisan, non-political organization. The reasons for this are so obvious to everyone that they need no elaboration.

Membership in the Red Cross includes so many people and there are so many men of prominence engaged in its work at home or abroad, that it is not at all unlikely that many of them will be candidates for office. No matter how sincerely any Red Cross official or worker may strive to keep separate his Red Cross work from any possible political ambitions which he may entertain, he may and probably will be quite unable to prevent his friends from using his connection with the Red Cross in order to gain favor with the voters.

Must Guard Organization.
While such action cannot be controlled, all candidates for office who are at heart sincere well-wishers for the Red Cross, should realize that they must do all in their power to prevent the public from gaining an impression that political preference can or should directly or indirectly be affected by Red Cross work either at home or abroad. The text of Red Cross service to mankind is stamped by the approval of the American people, regardless of politics, race or religion. No taint of selfishness or self-seeking can be allowed to creep into the work, endangering and even perhaps destroying its great accomplishment.

Accordingly, the Red Cross War Council instructs me to request that all officials of the Red Cross, who are in position of executive authority and who at the same time contemplate candidacy for public office, either to resign in their official capacity from the Red Cross or to refrain from such candidacy. At the same time, we ask that you give this statement the broadest publicity and that you use every influence of your office to prevent, in so far as is possible, the use of the Red Cross or of any of its services either directly or indirectly in the advancement, or in connection with the political campaign of any person.

Yours very truly,
Howard W. Fenton,
Manager, Central Division.

FORDSON TRACTOR EXHIBIT TODAY

Will Attract Many to Bufile Field, Near Nichols Park—Young Women to Drive Machines.

The Fordson tractor exhibition, which C. N. Priest has been advertising quite extensively during recent days, will be "staged" today on the Bufile tract on the Van dala road, just west of Nichols Park. The plowing is to begin at 9 a. m., and three of the tractors will be in use. One will be driven by Miss Eula Priest, and a second one by Miss Helen Leach. This is wheat stubble land and the field is spacious enough to provide for an extensive demonstration. The ground is also very accessible as it immediately joins the street car line. A tent is to be erected, so it will be protected in case of rain. Another demonstration will be given Sunday.

For more than two years past the farmers have been watching for the tractor, which it was known Henry Ford and son are perfecting. There was one delay after another and interference of war work made postponement of the initial appearance of the machine necessary. However, it was made known just a few weeks ago that the Fordson tractor would be available for the late summer and fall farm work. The production at this time is limited and not all of the Ford agents are able to secure tractors and no agent can secure anywhere near enough to meet the demand. It is said to be the policy to provide that each agent shall so far as possible place the tractors in different parts of his territory.

Henry Ford has called this tractor his gift to the American farmer, and it seems very possible that the Fordson tractor may later on occupy the same position in the tractor world that the Ford car does among automobiles.

RED CROSS NOTES.

An electric cutter has been installed in the surgical dressings department of the Red Cross. The use of the machine is made possible thru the generosity of the Jacksonville Railway and Light Company, which furnishes free of charge the necessary current to operate the cutter. The company also furnishes the free lights and fans for the Red Cross rooms, a special switch at the switch board making this possible. The cutter was purchased with a fund which was donated by various clubs and individuals.

Walter Crawford has installed a new table top in the surgical dressings department. The top is fourteen feet in length and forty-four inches in width. The table is equipped with cleats in which are upright spikes at each end for the purpose of holding the gauze in place. Three bolts of gauze one hundred yards each in length can be cut at one time with the new cutter, which greatly expedites the work of the department.

EDUCATION BOARD IN BRIEF SESSION

Various Plans Discussed for Possible Drainage on Kosciusko Street—Wood Property Not Yet Purchased.

A brief meeting of the board of education was held last night, President Lippincott, Members Pierson, Parker, Hopper, Metcalf and Rogers in attendance. It was a session called particularly for consideration of problems relating to the proposed vacation of Kosciusko street and the purchasing of the Wood property. As previously stated, the city council has expressed an entire willingness to vacate that part of Kosciusko street between the David Prince building and the Wood property is satisfactory plans can be provided for taking care of the water flowing down Kosciusko street from State street. The lay of the land is such that following a heavy shower there is a large amount of water which rushes down this street.

Several Drainage Plans.
Public Engineer Henderson in conjunction with the city council has worked out several possible plans for taking care of this surplus water but all of them are of necessity quite expensive. The board of education therefore faces the prospect of an expense of $1,500 to $2,000 for a drainage system if the Wood property is purchased and the street vacated with the purpose in view of using it as a building site. There has been no contract for the purchase of the Wood house, the board simply having an option, and so it is still an open question as to what can be done.

One plan proposed a curb and gutter leading from Kosciusko street to Prairie street and another curb and gutter leading to Fayette street. Neither was found to be feasible because sufficient fall cannot be provided. The suggestion of retaining a driveway in the present site of Kosciusko street about 18 feet wide would take care of the water in the same way that it now flows but would not permit the use of the street as a building site later on if the board so desired.

Nothing was done at the board meeting last night other than to discuss these various proposals, and further as to what plans might be carried out if it was deemed best not to exert the option on the Wood property.
